SUSTAINABLE & ENVIRONMENTAL THINKING SINCE 2004

FSC® As a company that is constantly developing, Palmako AS puts great emphasis on environmentally friendly thinking.

Since 2004, the Palmako has been FSC®-certified and it contributes to sustainable forestry. Palmako AS public policy regarding the exclusion of illegal and controversial timber: It is the policy of Palmako to avoid using wood that has been illegally harvested; wood from genetically modified trees; wood from areas where traditional or civil rights are violated; and wood from uncertified high conservation value old-growth forests, as described in the current FSC PBC policy, when applying the FSC policy.

Palmako AS has appointed a contact person responsible for implementing this policy. The purchasing manager of Palmako can be contacted regarding any aspects of this policy for clarification. The present policy is public and provided to anybody upon request. The purchasing manager is willing to explain the background for this policy to any interested party.

If Palmako AS is informed by third parties based on solid evidence that any of its suppliers are providing them with illegal or controversial timber, Palmako promises to promptly take the appropriate actions. Actions may include stopping purchases from such sources or following up activities with the supplier to explain FSC public policy and avoid future cases.

Palmako AS encourages external parties to get in touch if it becomes known that timber supplied to Palmako is illegal or originates from unacceptable sources. Palmako is committed to paying attention to any such claim that is sufficiently backed up by evidence.

Palmako AS declares that its products meet the requirements of the applicable EC directives.
